

How to Play:

Download the page of images. Cut each image out in squares and turn the squares upside down (you may want to start with four and you can build from there as you get the hang of it).

Each square has an image on it. You can create any story you wish but the story must reference or include each of the images you have selected. You can go in order or just randomly fit them into your story as you wish. If you are finding some tough, then just swap them out and keep going. Have fun creating your very own pony tales and feel free to share them with your friends!
